Message From Terri Tweedy

At Holiday time each year, a sense of Melancholy usually sets in as my family lives mostly in Louisiana. This year I'm so thankful that I have my Windsor Manor Family- residents and staff- to make this holiday season more joyful! I truly have so much to be thankful for!

Please make sure we are handwashing and taking good care of ourselves with the flu season around the corner.

As the time comes for Thanksgiving we start to think about the generation gaps. Remember when we used to go to Grandma and Grandpa's house and get around the big table and all the family there. The day would be filled with talking, laughing, and joking around. You would have a fun filled day with family. Everyone would be there cooking and eating.

Now days you still get together at Thanksgiving but the kids all have electronics. Everyone has a cellphone. People are more worried about what is on facebook then what is happening in their house at that moment.

Maybe we should close the gap a little and get back to worrying more about family and friends. Put down the phones, ipads, and ipods. Enjoy your family. Holidays are so special. Traditions can be made. Make lot of special memories this holiday season.
