Spring is here, and with it comes my favorite holiday! EASTER is the holiday that my family always celebrates with a very LARGE get-together. It began weeks before, finding that perfect outfit to wear to church AND one to wear to Aunt Sue's for the Easter egg hunt. The night before, we would dye eggs and start the meal for the next day. Early Sunday morning, we'd all dress up in our gloves and bonnets and fill the church (I had 7 sets of aunts and uncles, and even more cousins counting my 1st, 2nd, and 3rd). Then it was off to eat and hunt eggs with them all.

I grew up in church, so I always knew what Easter was truly about. It was through the death and resurrection of Jesus that we can have everlasting life. Spring is a time of new life also. Open the windows, let the bad out and the good in! New birth, beauty all around us. A time to reflect on how we can be a better person.

This year, for the first time, I will be traveling home to Louisiana with my new twin grandbabies! I can't wait to celebrate this new life with my Mom, their Great Grandmother. I hope that they can continue the tradition of my family, and that they someday understand the true meaning of Easter.
