Marjory grew up in Humbolt, Iowa with her two sisters and one brother. Her parents didn't own a car so they walked everywhere. She played the drums in the high school band and orchestra and was head drummer.

Marjory married Kenneth Burke when she was 22. They lived in Renwick, Iowa where they raised four children, two boys and two girls. Family time was spent camping and riding horses. Kenneth ran his own auto shop and Marjory drove a school bus. In 1980 they moved to a farm in Norwalk and Marjory worked at Norwalk State Bank.

Marjory is a very busy lady. She loves to walk, talk, read and take care of plants. She loves to play the drums and listen to music. Her favorite singer is Neil Diamond. She also loves watching old movies and baseball.

Marjory is grateful for her amazing life and loving family.

We're so blessed to have such a lovely lady with us at Windsor Manor!

When Autumn Leaves Start to Fall

The leaves are already turning and I’m getting that melancholy feeling I get every Fall. The sights and smells are wonderful, but I get this sense of impending doom thinking of the first freeze, then the first snow, or what about the possibility of a nasty ice storm? Fall would absolutely be my favorite time of year if it was followed by Spring or Summer.

Though I’m not a fan of Winter, I do think there is something about the change of seasons that keeps us on our toes and gives us something to look forward to. I always feel a sense of accomplishment when we get through a hard winter—like we deserve to have a great spring and summer for the trouble that winter put us through. And there’s no doubt that life seems to move at a slower pace in the winter. We can catch up on indoor projects and spend a little more time with family and friends.

I’m trying very hard to just take each day of fall one at a time—not thinking about what comes next. Living one day at a time also keeps us from being disappointed about future plans that don’t materialize or stressing out about what tomorrow might bring. So let’s look out at the beautiful changing landscape and just enjoy the scenery. And with the crazy weather patterns we’re seeing these days, maybe it will be a mild winter (fingers crossed!) and we’ll coast right into spring.
