March

“The March winds roar like a lion in the sky, And makes us shiver as he passes by.

When winds are soft and the days are warm and clear.

Just like a gentle lamb, then spring is here.”

A Prayer for When You Are Waiting

My Father,
I know I am impatient, so prone to worry to give up, to lose hope

Lawrence Welk

March 11th, 1903 (died 1992)

Lawrence Welk was a musician, accordionist, bandleader, and television impresario, hosting The Lawrence Welk Show from 1955 to 1982.

His style came to be known to his large number of radio and television fans as "champagne music." Welk was raised in a German-speaking community in North Dakota and spoke English as a second language. He was married for 61 years, until his death, to Fern Renner, with whom he had three children.

Lawrence Welk had a license plate for his car that read "A1 AN A2."

"If they can't hum it after we play it, it's not for us."
~ Lawrence Welk

Daffodil

March's flower is the daffodil, also known as the jonquil or narcissus. In the language of flowers, giving jonquils means a desire for affection to be returned, or "please love me." However, if you give daffodils as a gift, make sure to give a full bouquet. A gift of a single daffodil is said to bring the recipient bad luck and make them narcissistic, as its other name suggests. Also, a bride should never carry yellow daffodils because they will cause her to become vain (although white daffodils are apparently acceptable).

"A man who can't laugh at himself should be given a mirror." ~ Irish saying an old IRISH CURSE;

"may those that love us love us; and those that don't love us, may god turn their hearts; if he can't turn their hearts, may he turn their ankles, so we'll know them by their limping."
